

Athletics - Progression of Indoor European records (defunct)

Since January 01, 1987, the EAA officially ratifies indoor European records. The running disciplines must be run on tracks that are no longer than 200 m / 220 y. The limits in each discipline were the European best performance on December 31, 1986. The best result of 1987 better than the European best performance was accepted as first European record. If this failed, the European best performance was increased to the first European record.
