

Shooting - Progression of shotgun world records

Before 1951, the shotgun competitions were run by the FITASC. The FITASC spoke out in favor of the recognition of world records on its general assembly in 1938, but only if identical and comparable rules exist and are applied. Nevertheless, subject to this reservation, it decides, according to the proposal presented by the relevant section in Helsinki, to approve the following records, all set during the 1933 championship shooting in Vienna:

European championship program: individual and team

World championship program: individual and team uninterrupted streak of hits

These were the only world records approved by the FITASC ever.

Since 1958, the UIT began to officially recognize world records first in skeet and nine years later in trap too.

For the general world record regulations see at the rifle and pistol section.

Individual World Records (until 31.12.2016 Final World Records)

The finals in the Olympic disciplines for the top six shooters of the qualification, introduced with the World Championships in September 1986, also brought about the introduction of Final world records.

⁴ 2001 regulations: All shotguns, including semi-automatic models, that do not exceed 12 calibers are permitted. Semi-automatic shotguns must be designed in such a way that it is not possible to load more than one cartridge in the magazine. Shotgun cartridges are used as ammunition, the case of which when fired may not be longer than 70 mm. The shot size must be 2.5 mm and smaller. The shot load may not exceed 24 g. The clay targets have a diameter of 110 mm, a height of 25 mm and a weight of 105 g.

The shot is carried out standing freehand. When called by the shooter, the clay target is thrown immediately. Two shots may be fired at each target. The throwing distance, height and angle setting within which the clay targets must be visibly hit is set according to one of nine schemes specified in the rules. The height of the throw, measured from the base level at a distance of 10 m from the throwing machine, is set at a minimum of 1.5 m and a maximum of 3.5 m and the flight distance between 75 and 80 m.

The clay targets are thrown from 5 groups of 3 machines each from a cover 15 m away from the shooter. Shooting is always done in series of 25 clay targets.

⁵ On March 22, 1967, the technical commission of the UIT decided to officially recognize world records in trap shooting. The first official world record was the winning performance at the 1966 World Championship.

The clay targets have a diameter of 110 mm, a height of 25 mm and a weight of 105 g.

Until the target appears, the shooter must hold his shotgun with the stock on his hip, only then can he take aim. In addition, only one shot may be fired at each target. The range of throw between 65 - 67 m and the height of 4.57 m are fixed by the same crossing point from both the high-rise building and the low-rise building.

The shooter shoots from 8 positions on single and double targets. Due to the stands changing, the conditions also change for the shooter. Shooting is always done in series of 25 clay targets.
